Your duty of disclosure

To be read by the Insured Person before completing the application.

Before a contract of life insurance is entered into with the insurer, we have a duty, under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984, to disclose to the insurer every matter that we know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk of the insurance and, if so, on what terms.

This duty of disclosure continues to apply until the contract is entered into. It also applies when the insurer extends, varies or reinstates. a contract of life insurance.

This duty, however, doesn't require disclosure of a matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the insurer
- that's of common knowledge
- that the insurer knows, or in the ordinary course of their business, ought to know
- as to which compliance with the duty is waived by the insurer.

As the Insured Person you have the same duty of disclosure and it is a condition of your membership to discharge that duty.

Non-disclosure – If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure and the insurer would not have entered into the contract if the failure had not occurred, the insurer may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it.

If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may avoid the contract at any time.

The insurer may elect not to avoid the contract but to vary it by:

(i) reducing the sum insured in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had complied with your duty of disclosure; or

(ii) placing the insurer in the position in which the insurer would have been in if you had complied with your duty of disclosure.

The options to vary the contract are available to the insurer while the contract remains in force.

Where the contract provides death cover, the insurer may only apply (i) above and must do so within 3 years of entering into the contract.

Effective from 28 December 2015

As the contract is for insurance of your life as the Insured Person, any failure by you to provide information about a matter that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to give you insurance and, if so, on what terms, may be treated as a failure by us, as the policy owner, to comply with our duty of disclosure.
