Important information

We cannot accept a notice to claim a tax deduction on any part or full amount of a personal contribution that you've used to start a pension.

A tax deduction can only be claimed if:

- you are self-employed, substantially self-employed (see definition below), retired or unemployed
- you advise the Trustee of the amount you want to claim as a tax deduction

You are substantially self-employed if less than 10% of your total assessable income, reportable fringe benefits plus reportable employer super contributions for the year are attributable to eligible employment. 'Eligible employment' means employment where your employer would normally be obliged to make super contributions for your benefit. The full amount of superannuation contributions made are tax deductible if you are self-employed, substantially self-employed, retired or unemployed.

Contributions tax

Contributions tax at the rate of 15%[†] will be deducted from the amount that you claim, less any applicable insurance fees (certain limits may apply) paid into the fund in the relevant financial year. Additional tax may apply in relation to amounts exceeding the concessional contributions cap.

The amount of personal contributions claimed as a tax deduction will be subject to the concessional contributions cap as follows:

Financial year	Concessional contributions
2012/2013	$25,000 regardless of your age.
2013/2014	$25,000 if you are under age 60 $35,000 if you are age 60 or older*

[†] 30% contributions tax will apply for people earning over $300,000.
