Welcome

This Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is an important legal document that contains statements and information concerning, and Terms and Conditions applicable to, Foreign Exchange Swaps. The information in this PDS can help you:

- decide if this product meets your needs
- compare this product with similar products.

The information in this PDS is general in nature and does not consider your particular objectives, financial situation or needs. Before you purchase a product from us, you should read the PDS and any other documents we give you.

When you acquire this product you are entering into a contract with Suncorp-Metway Limited. This means you can only deal with us in relation to this product.

Product overview

A Foreign Exchange Swap involves the exchange of one currency for another at an agreed exchange rate and on an agreed date (start date), and then a re-exchange of these two currencies on a later date (end date), also at an agreed exchange rate. The exchange rates are agreed at the time the Foreign Exchange Swap is entered into, thereby removing any exposure to exchange rate movements during the term of the Foreign Exchange Swap.

For example, an Australian company buys a business based and operated in New Zealand (NZ). The operating income and expenses of the NZ business are in NZ dollars (NZD) but the company borrows in Australian dollars (AUD) to fund the acquisition. They have an exchange rate exposure. They could eliminate this exposure by entering into a Foreign Exchange Swap, to swap the borrowed AUD into NZD for a nominated term, the same as the term of the AUD borrowings.

You will need an approved Suncorp credit facility with us before you transact a Foreign Exchange Swap covered by this PDS. Credit facilities should be discussed with a Suncorp lending representative. You should carefully consider the applicable fees and charges and terms associated with the credit facility.

For any terms you do not understand, please refer to 'Some terms explained' at the end of this document.

What is a Foreign Exchange Swap?

A Foreign Exchange Swap is a product used by customers who may have a need to exchange two currencies on one day and then re-exchange (swap) the same currencies at a later date.

The exchange of the two currencies has:

- a fixed term; and
- an agreed rate (swap rate).

A Foreign Exchange Swap is a simultaneous sale and purchase transaction that has two settlement dates:

- the “start date”, when a currency is first exchanged for another at an agreed exchange rate (agreed rate/swap rate); and
- the “end date” when the currencies are exchanged back at an agreed exchange rate.

The exchange rate for each of the transactions is usually different and this difference is called “swap points”. Swap points are set by the market and will generally reflect the current interest rates of the two countries involved for the term of the Foreign Exchange Swap. They are added to, or subtracted from, the spot rate and therefore can represent either a premium or discount to you.

It is also important to understand that when Suncorp quotes you an exchange rate, this quote includes a margin. For more information on margins see the “Fees and Charges” section.

How a Foreign Exchange Swap works in practice is demonstrated in the examples that follow in this PDS.

What are the benefits of a Foreign Exchange Swap?

A Foreign Exchange Swap allows you to exchange one currency for another at an agreed exchange rate and on an agreed date and then a re-exchange of these two currencies on a later date, also at an agreed exchange rate.

Exchange rates are volatile. The benefits of a Foreign Exchange swap includes protection in the event of unfavourable movements in exchange and provides greater cash flow certainty.

What are the disadvantages of a Foreign Exchange Swap?

Once you entered into a Foreign Exchange Swap you will not be able to take advantage of any favourable movements in exchange rates for that transaction.

Foreign Exchange Swaps cannot be extended.

You cannot extend the end date of a Foreign Exchange Swap.

What happens if the Foreign Exchange Swap is no longer needed?

You cannot cancel a Foreign Exchange Swap. It must be settled. You can however achieve a similar effect by undertaking an opposite Foreign Exchange Swap transaction. You will need to discuss this with your Treasury Representative.

What are the implications of an opposite transaction?

An opposite Swap transaction has the same features of a Foreign Exchange Swap as described in this PDS. The original Swap transaction gives you a future exposure and by entering an opposite Swap transaction you are essentially bringing that future exposure back to today. This effectively cancels the future risks and or benefits associated with the original Swap transaction and creates another (opposite) foreign exchange position today.

What are the significant risks of a Foreign Exchange Swap?

Foreign currency markets are volatile and there is a risk that exchange rates will move adversely, commonly called 'Currency risk'. There is a risk that you could incur a loss to the extent that these move against you.

There is also a risk that the two currency transactions that form the Swap transaction will not entirely "offset" each other due to the difference between the Foreign Exchange Swap and the underlying exposure. This is called Basis risk.

Counterparty risk also exists in a Foreign Exchange Swap. This is the risk that a counterparty to a transaction may be unable to meet its obligations. Suncorp-Metway Ltd is the counterparty to your Foreign Exchange Swap and is an Approved Deposit taking Institution and subject to prudential regulation. Our financial position and other corporate information can be understood by referring to the information and documents at the "About Us" section on our website suncorp.com.au/banking

We are not obliged to sell or buy back this product before the settlement date and it can not be traded on a market with anyone else.

Examples of how Foreign Exchange Swaps can work

Any rates used in these examples are for illustrative purposes only and may not reflect current market rates.

1. Foreign Exchange Swap used instead of a foreign currency loan

ABC Pty Ltd needs NZD 200,000 for 90 days. Rather than borrow NZD 200,000, ABC could borrow the equivalent in AUD (or use its available AUD funds) and enter into a Foreign Exchange Swap to:

- convert the AUD funds to NZD at an agreed exchange rate, and
- re-exchange the NZD back to AUD in 90 days at an agreed swap rate.

If ABC borrows the AUD, the loan can be with Suncorp or another financial institution. The loan is a separate transaction to the Foreign Exchange Swap. ABC contacts our Treasury Representative and asks for a Foreign Exchange Swap rate for NZD 200,000 with today as a start date and an end date in 90 days.

ABC is quoted:

- an initial exchange rate of 1.2450
- swap points of -0.0018 (-18 points)
- a re-exchange rate of 1.2432

ABC confirms it will accept the rates. The transactions today are:

- ABC pays us AUD 160,642.57 (NZD 200,000/1.2450)
- we pay ABC NZD 200,000.

90 days later:

- ABC pays us NZD 200,000
- we pay ABC AUD 160,875.16 (NZD 200,000/1.2432).

The difference in AUD amounts reflects the interest rate differential between Australia and New Zealand for 90 days (which was quoted to ABC as -18 points).

Please note the above example does not include any fees, charges or interest costs that may be associated with any loan you have.

2. Foreign Exchange Swap used to roll (extend) Forward Exchange Contracts (FECs)

XYZ Pty Ltd, an Australian importer, has an FEC maturing in two days.

The FEC is for:

- an amount of USD 200,000 and
- an exchange rate of 1.0250.

Shipment has been delayed and XYZ does not need to pay the USD for another month. It has two choices.

Choice 1

XYZ could settle the existing FEC in two days and invest USD for one month. XYZ would need to borrow AUD to pay for the USD (or use available AUD funds).

Choice 2

XYZ could settle the FEC in two days and use a Foreign Exchange Swap to delay the cash flows for a month. XYZ tells our Treasury Representative it wants a Foreign Exchange Swap to extend the FEC for one month.

XYZ is quoted:

- an initial exchange rate of 1.0215
- swap points of -0.0030 (-30 points)
- a re-exchange rate of 1.0185

In two days when the FEC matures and settles (the start date of the Foreign Exchange Swap):

- XYZ buys USD 200,000 and sells AUD 195,121.95 (USD 200,000/1.0250)
- there is the initial exchange of the Foreign Exchange Swap – XYZ sells USD 200,000 and buys AUD 195,790.50 (USD 200,000/1.0215)
- the only cash flow is that XYZ receives AUD 668.55 (the net result from the FEC and the initial exchange of the Foreign Exchange Swap)
- no USD is exchanged.

In one month there is a re-exchange of the Foreign Exchange Swap. XYZ buys USD 200,000 and sells AUD 196,367.21 (USD 200,000/1.0185).

By using a Foreign Exchange Swap to delay buying USD, XYZ has not had to borrow AUD for one month (or use its available funds). XYZ has been able to delay outlaying AUD 195,121.95 until it needs to pay USD.

How settlement takes place

The AUD or foreign currency that you or another party are paying to us must be cleared funds before you can transact with us. Our AUD payments will be made by electronic transfer. Our foreign currency payments will be made by electronic transfer.

To make a foreign currency payment, you will need to fax, email or send in any other agreed electronic form your signed instructions to Treasury Operations.

Term of Foreign Exchange Swap

The term of the Foreign Exchange Swap transaction will be agreed between us and is for a fixed duration. The duration of the term will also be subject to the term of your Suncorp credit facility. The term of a Foreign Exchange Swap transaction:

- is not subject to any minimum time period;
- can not exceed the term of your credit facility (see the section “Credit Facility” below for more information).

Credit facility

You will need an approved Suncorp credit facility with us before you transact a Foreign Exchange Swap covered by this PDS. If you have insufficient funds to settle a transaction, Suncorp may draw on your credit facility to settle or cover it. If you are unable to meet your obligations under the credit facility, Suncorp may exercise rights against you under the terms of the credit facility.

Credit facilities should be discussed with your Suncorp lending representative and you should carefully consider the applicable fees and charges and terms associated with the credit facility. These will be fully disclosed in the relevant facility documentation.

You should read the credit facility documentation carefully to understand your rights and obligations and also Suncorp’s rights and obligations under the terms of the credit facility.

Remuneration and other benefits paid to the Representatives

Representatives employed in the Treasury area of the Suncorp Group receive an annual salary, which is based on a number of general factors including industry experience, location, qualifications and complexity of role. In addition, a Treasury Representative may be paid a bonus payment based on a number of factors including the Representative’s individual performance. However, Representatives do not receive incentives, commissions or other payments based solely on individual sales or the advice provided by the Representative. At any point in time, it is not possible to determine if a Treasury Representative will receive a bonus or to quantify it.

Documents

Unless you already have an agreement in place, we will send you either:

- a Derivatives Master Agreement for Foreign Currency Transactions, or
- a Master Agreement in the form produced by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association Inc (“ISDA”).

Both of the above set out the terms and conditions that apply to the Swap transactions we enter into with you and generally govern the relationship between you and Suncorp. You should also read the Suncorp terms and conditions below that also apply.

You can ask us for copies of these documents. We recommend you read the documents and that you seek your own independent legal advice.

You need to sign the document and return it to Treasury Operations before you can enter into a Foreign Exchange Swap agreement. You may also need to satisfy other requirements that we may have before you can enter into a Foreign Exchange Swap agreement.

If, despite this clause any provision is void, unenforceable or remains in breach of a law or Code, then that provision will be treated as ineffective and severed to the extent only that the provision is void, unenforceable or in breach but without invalidating the other parts of this document.

2. That fax, email and other agreed electronic form instructions are sent on your letterhead or otherwise clearly identify you as the sender and signed by a duly Authorised Signatory. At our request you will confirm all instructions in writing.
3. We are not obliged to act upon instructions from you and acceptance of one or more instructions by us shall not oblige us to act on or otherwise accept further instructions from you.
4. We shall not be liable for any loss or damage (whether consequential or otherwise) incurred by you as a result of us acting on instructions which we believed were duly given by an Authorised Signatory or Authorised Dealer. You indemnify us against any loss incurred as a result of us acting in accordance with instructions, which we believed, were duly given.
5. Instructions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Queensland.

You appoint a dealing authority or an attorney at your own risk.

You are responsible for any transactions that person makes on your behalf, even if you do not know about the transactions.

You must not give your Telephone Access Code, any password or other secret code or access method we give you to the appointed person or anyone else. We may issue a separate Telephone Access Code, password or other secret code or access method to the appointed person you have authorised to operate your account/product.

Unless we are found to be negligent, fraudulent or to have otherwise breached our legal obligations, we are not responsible for a dealing authority/attorney or the way that a dealing authority/attorney accesses an account/product. Subject to law, unless we are found to be negligent, fraudulent or to have otherwise breached our legal obligations, we are not liable for any loss or damage caused by a person you have authorised to operate on your behalf.

If the account and/or product holder is a company, partnership or incorporated association we can only accept instructions/requests in the way the rules of the company, partnership or incorporated association allow.

Errors on statements or confirmations, mistakes and unauthorised transactions

You must read statements and other records and write to us promptly if there is a mistake, if information is missing or if statements show transactions you did not make.

If you detect an error or believe a transaction was not authorised by you, you must notify us as soon as you become aware of the transaction.

We are not responsible for any loss you may suffer due to errors, inaccuracies or omissions in relation to authorised but mistaken instructions given to us for the operation of your account and/or product.

Some transactions are governed by the ePayments Code. We will comply with the requirements of any law, code or scheme applying to any disputed transaction.

Confirmations

We will send you a confirmation of transactions made and the terms applying to same via fax, email or in any other electronic form where agreed from time to time. The confirmations will be conclusive evidence of the transaction made and terms applying to same unless you advise us otherwise, within 24 hours of receipt of the confirmation.

If you advise us of any incorrect information contained in the confirmation within 24 hours of receipt of the confirmation we will proceed to investigate and attempt to resolve the disputed information. In doing this, we will comply with the requirements of any law, code or scheme applying to any disputed transaction.

Losses and errors

An unauthorised transaction, that is a transaction you do not authorise, does not include any transaction carried out by you or by anyone performing a transaction with your knowledge and consent.

Where you do not authorise a transaction, you will not be responsible for losses, which are:

- (a) caused by fraudulent or negligent conduct of our staff or agents of ours or companies involved in networking arrangements or merchants or their agents or employees; or
- (b) losses that are caused by the same transaction being incorrectly debited more than once to the same account.

Where it is clear that you have not contributed to any loss caused by unauthorised transactions you will not be liable.

When you are liable for losses

You will be liable for losses resulting from unauthorised transactions where on the balance of probability we can prove that you contributed to the losses through fraud. We are not responsible for any loss suffered if the account numbers, BSB or amounts of transactions you authorise are incorrect or invalid or if you authorise transactions more than once in error.

You must check the details of each transfer and each transaction in a payment and ensure that the accounts, BSB and amounts are correct. Once you authorise transactions to be processed we will not be able to stop, withdraw, suspend or delete the transfer, change any details or recover the funds.

If a transfer is unable to be processed by the receiving financial institution, the funds will be returned to your account. This may take approximately 5 days but can take longer depending on the other financial institution.

If an electronic transfer to another financial institution fails, it is possible that the funds returned to us and subsequently returned to you, may be less than the funds originally transferred due to failure fees charged by the other financial institution or market movements in exchange rates if the return of funds involves an exchange.

Overseas Transactions

Transactions processed in foreign currency may be converted to Australian dollars using the exchange rate specified by your Treasury Representative at the time of processing.

We will not be responsible for any losses as a result of fluctuations in exchange rates between when the overseas transaction was effected or requested and when the exchange rate was applied.

If we have reasonable grounds for thinking that your overseas transaction breaks any law applying at the time, we can refuse to process it.
